

Dr Paintbrush

Did someone say colour? I do not have favourites...or do I?

Dr Paintbrush has a healthy love of learning and has studied in the most prestigious art universities in the world, including the Royal College of Art. Her innovative use of colour has played a major role in recent rethinking of the the role of colour in design, architecture and education.

Here is a list of Dr Paintbrush's writings: + Political analysis of colours that detest politics + Colour your child (a parent manual) + That colour you hate + Baa Baa black sheep: Baa Baa pink sheep + A colour is worth a thousand words + The symbolic language of colour

This is a Book Writing pagarte.
