THE PLAN

Mick & Em: Explain the project brief (GGR)

Practical brief: the wall outside The Edge and also be in the main SLQ building. Made out of foam, cardboard and have lights. Limited colour palette. To showcase the equipment that we have at The Edge.

Copy: needs to be appropriate for children, teens and adults and diverse community. Encapsulate Rumpus. A sense playful fun celebration. Welcoming feel.

Example copy: 'Let the wild rumpus start', 'Let the party begin',

Aesthetic: see Pinterest board and Talia's design.

GGR brings to life the imaginary worlds of children. Cross generational community collaboration to bring to life children imaginary landscape. Cross disciplinary- activation activities of movement, projection and soundscape, costume and storytelling (narrative)

Mick & Em: show examples of signs that have been made at the edge and sign possibilities.

6.15pm: Talia: Share her design for the Great and Grand Rumpus sign

Talia: Intro to Typography and relevant terms

6.30pm Break off into groups.

- Em & Mick: Share some tag line examples break off into typography and copy groups. Then swap.

- Talia: lead the group through using the print outs of styles and fonts. Solo playing with these.

7pm

Sharing back to the group. Choose one font and one tag line.

Working on one that has been chosen by the group

7.40pm Talia: Showing If we use existing fonts, show entering them in, but if they go for a hand lettered approach, talk through scanning it in and tracing by hand on computer approach.

7.50pm finish

Reflection

The group that attended had rather different personalities and interests. It took a while to get busy hands and ideas.

The main ideas that emerged where:

A call to action tag line of:

Join the..... Adventure, Fun, Wonder, excitement, crazy, stampede... with a pianola like turning cog that allows punters to turn it to land on a word.

Some kind of composition to make it look nice and to have 'The Great and Grand Rumpus' as one line down the bottom with hashtags #made@theedge #greatgrandrumpus

If we had more time and resources we would pick up and run with the idea of pianola type roll/barrel that could be interacted with to change the words (fun, excitement etc) if we were to do this series again it would be great to begin with lettering first and to explore techniques and what the lettering conveys. Mick's suggestion is to offer as a series before beginning a sign design and making process. If I was to just do the design session again I would start with playfully exploring brushstrokes to begin with and then incorporate the brief and then come up with a tagline.

Evaluation

16 people signed up online to attend. 6 people actually attended.

Post

1 person completed the survey. Has been coming 1-6months to The Edge.

Community Development

Do you feel connected to The Edge community?

100% probably not connected

Cultural participation

Did you feel engaged by the design session?

100% very much so

Community Development

Did you have a conversation with someone new?

100% somewhat yes

Accessing Resources

Was the design session inclusive?

100% very much so

Idea building

Did you have any new ideas?

100% very much so

Comments

Looking forward to tonight's session, I will definitely be back for it.
