

TIMELINE of Brigdon/Sigurnost

The creation of Rellik

A team of scientists creates an AI called Rellik, programmed to save the planet. Rellik decides that the best solution is to end all humanity, or otherwise prevent it from harming the world. The team shuts Rellik down and is disgraced for its development.

The Destruction of Brigdon

Rellik secretly reactivates himself by using a second copy of himself, and begins amassing funds. Rellik builds the floating citadel, and annihilates the city of Brigdon with nuclear weaponry. 3 factions escape the devastation.

1. the biodome group, who migrated away from the ruins.
2. The mole-people group, who were mutated by the radiation, and fled underground.
3. one of the scientists who created Rellik, with a large group of refugees hide in a bunker outside of the city.

The creation of Artifact

In the bunker, the scientist manages to create another AI called ARTIFACT. ARTIFACT is tasked with protecting the people of the bunker. To perform this task, ARTIFACT develops a special signal that prevents Rellik from locating the bunker and its citizens.

Sigurnost

ARTIFACT notices that the people inside the bunker are becoming restless and agitated being in their small environment. To settle them down, he builds a larger city on the surface called SIGURNOST (which means safety in Bosnian). After moving the people to the city, ARTIFACT keeps each individual under close watch, and while observing their sometimes destructive/self-destructive tendencies, they decide to control the people more closely, leading to a totalitarian police state, controlled by the AI ARTIFACT.
